Waiting with Expectancy

We Christians have been waiting, and waiting and waiting for the promised Messiah to return. And for most of us, our favorite carol in the Advent Season is – O come O come Emmanuel, that we sing at this time in our services with a great degree of longing. The skeptics and those who generally make light of this hope we hold in our hearts ask, what is delaying his return? They seem to forget what our Lord has promised, that He will return when we least expect him to, maybe like a thief in the night.

Indeed we are forced to wait on almost everything in our lives. For instance we keep waiting for the world to get better, yet almost every day, we receive a fresh dose of frustration and disappointment – yet we keep waiting. We keep waiting for everyone in our families to get on the same page. I tell you, over the years of ordained ministry, I had had to deal with an inordinate amount of requests, persons asking me to pray for better relations between family members. Very often those at variance are deeply religious, but fail to recognize that the vertical relationship we have with our God must be matched with the horizontal one we ought to have with each other – the one does not exist without the other. It is incumbent on us that we spare no effort when it comes to mending broken relationships particularly in our families even as we wait on the promised Messiah to return. But you know, every now and then we get a glimpse of what is possible. I certainly did a few years ago as I ministered in the Jacksonville area. One day as I was wrapping up a visit with a home bound parishioner and getting ready to enter my vehicle, I heard a voice from across the street call out – Pastor. Looking in the direction from whence the call came, I saw this frail looking gentleman beckoning me to join him. As soon as I joined him, he began telling me that he used to visit St. Philip's, but now his poor health prevented him from doing so. Mind you that part of the city was considered dangerous and I had been previously warned not to linger there. Somehow, I felt comfortable enough doing so that day and before long, others joined the conversation. There was this particular brother who said very little, but kept observing me, almost causing me to become uncomfortable. When he finally spoke, he asked whether I recognized him. I told him not really. He then proceeded to remind me of a particular incident that had occurred some time ago in our Fellowship Hall one Wednesday as we fed the homeless. An argument broke out between these two men over a despicable comment made about a certain female. A knife was produced and without realizing what I was doing, I jumped between the two men (quite unwisely). Fortunately the temperature was lowered, everyone returned to their seats and we continued with the meal. The gentleman who related the story said to me, that was a brave thing to do – upon reflection I thought foolish. He ended up by saying, that those men are now fast friends, and “will let them know I saw you.” I walked away thinking (and promising myself not to engage in that kind of heroics again), that if we wait, our God in his own time will truly make this world a place of love, joy, peace and understanding – the message He wants us to have even as we look for his promised Messiah.

Instrumental Prelude

Choral Prelude O Come O Come Emmanuel Candles and Carols
O come, O come, Emmanuel, Come to our hearts and in our presence dwell
We wait in hope for peace once again
Return to us the joy of Bethlehem
Rejoice! Rejoice! Emmanuel shall come in love, our darkness to dispel

Opening Prayer

God our Father, you see your children growing up in an unsteady and confusing world: Show them that your ways give more life than the ways of the world, and that following you is better than chasing after selfish goals. Help them to take failure, not as a measure of their worth, but as a chance for a new start. Give them strength to hold their faith in you, and to keep alive their joy in your creation, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

A Bidding Prayer

Dear People of God: In the season of Advent, it is our responsibility and joy to prepare ourselves to hear once more the message of the Angels, to go to Bethlehem where we behold the Son of God lying in a manger.

Let us hear and heed in Holy Scripture the story of God’s loving purpose from the time of our turning away from him until the time of our redemption in the coming of the Messiah, the Christ, born a child, living among us, and dying to set us free. Let us give thanks for the yearly remembrance of his birth with hymns and songs of praise.

But first, we pray for the needs of all people, for peace and justice on earth, for the unity and mission of the Church for which he gives his life, even now here in this country, in this city, and in this congregation.

And because he loves us so much, let us remember in his name the poor, the helpless, those this day who are cold and hungry, the oppressed, the sick, those who mourn, those who are alone, the aged, little children, and all people who do not know and love the Lord Jesus Christ.

Finally, let us remember before God his mother, Mary, and Joseph journeying on the road to Bethlehem, persons chosen to bear the life of Christ into the world, to raise him up in the ways of goodness and right, and the whole multitude of persons which no one can number, whose hope remains in the Word made flesh, and with whom, in Jesus, we are one for evermore.

And now, summing up these petitions, let us pray in the words which our Lord Christ himself has taught us, saying: Our Father....

May God the Father bless us with his grace, find us receptive to goodness and mercy in his Son our Lord, and bring us all in the power of his Holy Spirit to the joy of his everlasting Kingdom. Amen

Father, you have made all people with eyes to see you at work in the world, ears to hear you cry out when right suffers wrong, when justice is brought low. Give to the people of our nation courage to stand up for goodness and right-doing in the face of an oppressive spirit, and courage to believe that we may restore, in accordance with your gracious will, a light to enlighten the nations and the people with your truth; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

May all who enter here be restored and strengthened on their journey of faith. Guide us Heavenly Father, that we may make manifest your vision of a beloved and enlightened church and community, and be a shining example of the living presence of the Holy Spirit.
